DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The lengthy specification has not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors. Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the specification.

Double Patenting

2. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

3. Claims 9-17 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-13 of U.S. Patent No. 6,693,001. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because, the subject matter of the patent and the application are coextensive.
4. US 6,693,001 shows the method substantially as claimed in claims 1-13 as a CMOS process with Co silicided gate and source/drain regions. In step (g), insulating sidewalls are described which isolate the n-type and p-type gates from their respective source/drain regions.
5. US 6,693,001 lacks anticipation only in not stating in the same manner as the application, that: 1) a first pair of insulating sidewalls exist for the n-type transistor and a second pair of insulating sidewalls exist for the p-type transistor (steps (e) and (f)); 2) the surface portions of the silicon surface over the n-type and p-type source/drain regions are exposed (step (g)) and; 3) the Co film is deposited to cover at least the exposed surface portions (step (h)).

6. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to have stated the insulating sidewalls, in the US Patent 6,693,001, as first and second pairs of insulating sidewalls and to have exposed the surface portions of the silicon surface over the n-type and p-type source and drain regions after forming these spacers, with the motivation that US 6,693,001 already states that the insulating sidewalls exist for both transistors and with the motivation that after forming the spacers, which is conventionally by deposition of an insulating layer and then anisotropic etching, the silicon surface over the source/drain regions would be exposed inherently, leaving behind the insulating sidewalls.
